

ADR and Settlement in the Federal District Courts

a sourcebook for judges & lawyers

ELIZABETH PLAPINGER
CPR Institute for Dispute Resolution

DONNA STIENSTRA
Federal Judicial Center

Biblioteca de la Corte Suprema
Nº de Orden	120.043
Ubicación	T4405

with the assistance of Laural Hooper & Melissa Pecherski, Federal Judicial Center

a joint project of the FEDERAL JUDICIAL CENTER and the
CPR INSTITUTE FOR DISPUTE RESOLUTION

1996

DONACION
Dr. ROSANSKY, FELIX

Contents ✓

Preface v

Acknowledgments vii

Part I: Introduction and Analysis 1 ✓

Introduction 3

Patterns in Federal District Court ADR 4

Court-Based ADR Programs: How Many, What Kind, and How Old? 4

How Many Cases in ADR? 6

Referring Cases to ADR: The Shift from Referral by Case Type to the Judge as ADR

Catalyst and Educator 7

ADR Obligations of Attorneys and Litigants 8

Timing of the ADR Session and Integration into Case Management 8

The Central Role of Attorney-Neutrals and Court Rosters 9

Fees for ADR: Parties Generally Must Pay 10

Increasing Formalism and Institutionalization of ADR 11

ADR Quality and Court Resources 12

A Note on Tables 1–7 14

Table 1: ADR in the Federal District Courts 15

Table 2: Other Case Resolution Practices and Procedures 20

Table 3: Arbitration Program Specifics 29

Table 4: Mediation Program Specifics 36

Table 5: Early Neutral Evaluation Program Specifics 50

Table 6: Settlement Week Program Specifics 55

Table 7: Case Valuation Program Specifics 56

Part II: District-by-District Descriptions 57 ✓

What Is in Part II? 59

Definitions and Key Features of ADR and Settlement Processes in the Federal District Courts 60

Arbitration 61

Case Valuation (“Michigan Mediation”) 63

Court Minitrial 63

Early Neutral Evaluation 63

Judge-Hosted Settlement Conferences 65

Mediation 65

Multi-Door Courthouse or Multi-Option ADR 67

Settlement Week 67

Summary Jury Trial 67

List of District-by-District Summaries 71