PUBLIC POLICY

A Comparative Study in English and French Law

by

DENNIS LLOYD
M.A., LL.B.
of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law
Reader in English Law in the University of London

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON
THE ATHLONE PRESS
1953

CONTENTS

TABLE OF CASES xv

I: INTRODUCTORY 1

II: PUBLIC ORDER 9
(1) Interference with the public service 10
(2) Tax evasion 11
(3) Gold clauses 12
(4) Status 13
(5) Statutes to protect particular classes 18
(6) 'Knock-out' agreements at auctions 18
(7) Restraints on alienation 18
(8) Benefit from crime 21
(9) Ousting the jurisdiction of the courts 24
(10) Infringing the laws of a foreign state 25

III: MORALITY (Bonnes Mœurs) 27
(1) Disposal of life body or liberty of oneself or others . . 28
(A) Imperilling life and health 28
(B) Restraints on liberty 30
(a) Personal freedom 30
(b) Freedom of marriage 31
(c) Freedom of religion 34
(d) Freedom of work, profession and industry . . 34
(i) Contracts for work or services . . . 34
(ii) Restraints on competition on sale of a business . 42
(iii) Trade unions 44
(iv) Monopoly agreements 45
(v) Professional practices 52

IV: MORALITY (Bonnes Mœurs) (continued) 55
(1) Sexual immorality 55
(2) Gambling 59
(3) Fraud or trickery 61
(4) Doing from interest what should be done out of duty . 63
(5) Acquiring an improper immunity—clauses of exemption . 65
(6) Miscellaneous instances 70

V: PUBLIC POLICY IN PRIVATE INTERNATIONAL LAW . . 73

VI: EFFECT OF A TRANSACTION INFRINGING PUBLIC POLICY . . 97
(1) Cause, motive and consideration 103
(2) Proof of illegality—extrinsic evidence 106
(3) Severance of illicit agreements 107
(4) Interposition of the Judge 107

VII: THE ROLE OF THE JUDGE 111
(1) The creative function of the Judge 112
(2) By what means does the Judge ascertain current public policy or morality? 121
(3) Public policy as reflecting changed social and economic conditions 130
A final illustration from Canada 143

VIII: CONCLUSION 147

INDEX 159